

WILD GOOSE CHASE

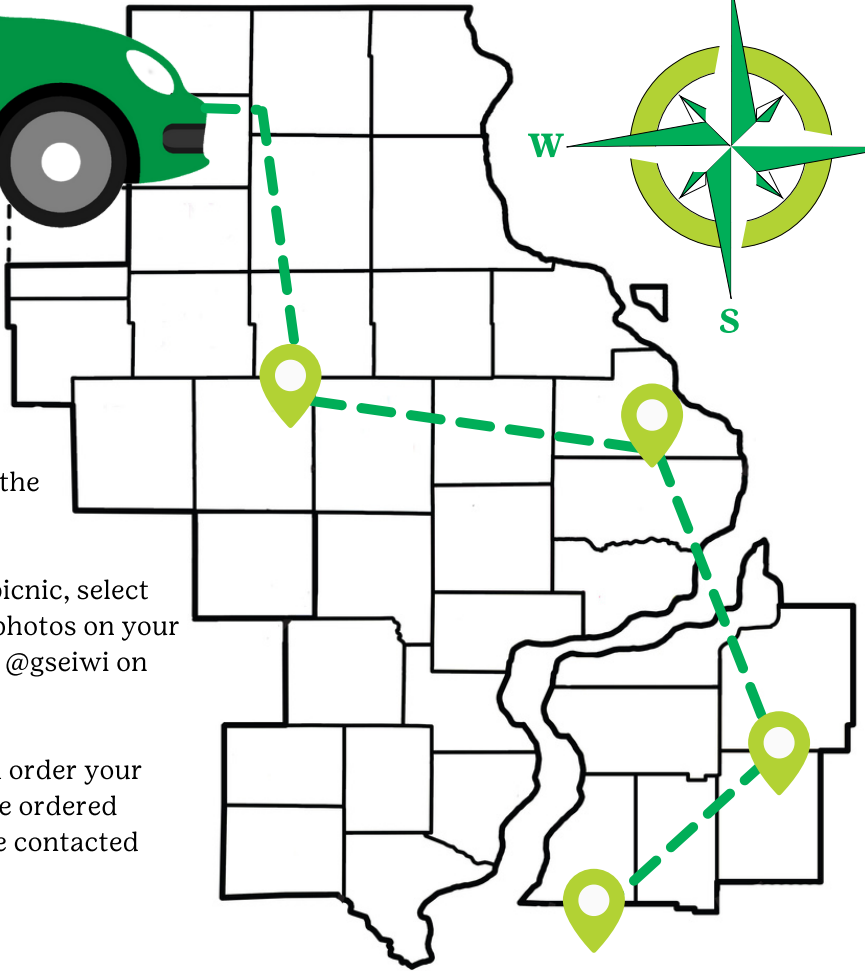

Join our road trip adventure to discover the special, unique, and weird sites across our council region. Girls and their families or troops can take road trips to locations that make our communities unique and achieve the Wild Goose Chase patches.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE:

1. Decide which Wild Goose Chase your family will embark on; there are five different maps based on our council's regions.
2. Girl Scouts will then read the clues and, with the help of Google, find each location.
3. Gather your Wild Goose Chase team, pack a picnic, select your car ride playlist, and document plenty of photos on your travels. (Use #GSEIWIWildGooseChase and tag @gseiwi on Instagram and Twitter!)
4. Complete your map? Submit your photos and order your patches on GirlScoutsToday.org. Patches will be ordered on October 1. Parents and Troop Leaders will be contacted when they are ready for pick up.

HELPFUL TIPS:

Daisy, Brownie, and Junior Girl Scouts should work together with their families or troop leaders to chart where to go and in what order.

Cadette, Senior, and Ambassador Girl Scouts should go “old school” and use a paper map! Using the map, girls should direct their parents or guardians to find each location.

Parents and guardians can scan the QR Codes on the map to identify the correct locations if needed. This challenge is on your honor so remember to be honest and fair Girl Scouts.

The majority of experiences are free. A dollar sign on the clue will indicate if there is a small cost to attend the location.

Traveling in Iowa? This map helps! 🍀 Traveling in Illinois? This map helps!

Email Info@GirlScoutsToday.org or call 800-798-0833 with questions.

WILD GOOSE CHASE

Finished guessing?

Central Region

Scan for the correct locations!

1. One of the most famous images in 20th Century American Art painted by a famous Iowan was the inspiration for Cedar Rapids "Overalls All Over" Take your picture with one of these statues. The classic one is living with the Scottish.

2. Discover your new favorite author along this sidewalk which features quotes and authors with ties to Iowa.

3. Go back in time 375 million years as you visit this geological site and see the fossils.

4. This petting farm, which is open to the public, is more than 100 years old and is named after our favorite farmer.

5. Find out the purpose of the Native American Wickiup Structure and find the Giant's Chair.

6. One of the wackiest things on our list. Don't bring eggs and bacon because this pan is too big!

7. This museum will make you grateful for these big machines which help bring food to our tables. Crows may or may not be seen!

8. Celebrate this former first lady and National President of Girl Scouts by locating her statue in the Sculpture Park. Can you find the WAGGGS Badge in her hand?

9. How do you get ice without refrigeration? Learn how it was once cut from the Cedar River. 